

CLARIFICATION - ASX RELEASE DATED 31 JULY 2013

ASX RELEASE

7 AUGUST 2013

Siburan Resources Limited (ASX: SBU, Siburan) refers to the "Acquisition of Historical Mine Workings in New Zealand: Endeavour - Antimony and Gold, Bullendale - Gold" announced to the ASX on 31 July 2013.

Statements made in the sections titled Previous Mining and Exploration were attributed to quotes in various publications and reports which are shown as references within the announcement.

The Company retracts any statements that may imply a resource, exploration target or historical estimate and which otherwise may be taken to be misleading to investors.

As the Company is concerned that investors may attribute the statements in the release to be implying a resource, exploration target or historical estimate, it cautions investors against using those statements as a basis for investment decisions about shares in the Company. For the purpose of clarity, the Company has not made any claims of a resource, exploration target or historical estimate regarding the projects.

The Company further confirms the drilling results reported in relation to the Bullendale Project as disclosed on page 5 of the release and quoted as carried out by Aurum Reef Resources are the only results available and that no further data is available to the Company in relation to that drilling programme.

Siburan advises that it will be undertaking an exploration programme to map the existing adits to clarify the mineralisation at the projects. The programme will initially involve surface sampling of existing mullock stockpile and adit walls. Subsequently, a drilling programme will be designed to identify mineralisation extensions based on the findings of the mapping and sampling programme.

The Company's objective in relation to the Bullendale and Endeavour Projects is to develop any identifiable resource targets and work towards JORC compliant figures in the next 18 months.
